

Third Sunday of Easter April 10, 2016

The Story and You: Third Sunday of Easter
We watched a stupid movie the other night. The wife has been disfigured, but transformed through plastic surgery. Now, beautiful again, she is shocked that her husband doesn't recognize her. "Oh, brother," said my husband, "I would know you if you were a foot taller and bald. The second you even took a breath to say a word, I would know it was you." And I would know it was Ben my husband. That's why it's so intriguing that the disciples, who have been with Jesus from the beginning of his public ministry at the Sea of Galilee, don't recognize him when he appears there. All but one, that is. The Beloved Disciple realizes at once that it is Jesus. Who is this mysterious "disciple whom Jesus loved"? This anonymous disciple reclines next to Jesus at the Last Supper, stands with Mary at the foot of the cross, races to the tomb with Peter on Easter morning, and, now, is the first to know that the stranger calling from the shore is Jesus himself. My student of many years ago changed my understanding of the Beloved Disciple forever. He said, "Kathy, whenever I read about the disciple Jesus loved I just put my name there. I say, 'and then José, the disciple Jesus loved, put his head on Jesus' breast.' Or, at the cross, 'Woman, behold José. José, behold your mother.'" Now that's the way to pray the gospels. Try it. Put your name there. Imagine that is you racing to the tomb, and you seeing the angels. And, yes, it is you who is given the charge to "go and tell the others."

Are you afraid to talk about the resurrection of Jesus in our increasingly secular culture?

La Historia y Usted: Tercer Domingo de Pascua
La otra noche vimos una película muy boba. La esposa fue desfigurada, pero después transformada por medio de cirugías plásticas. Ahora, bella de nuevo, se encuentra estupefacta de que su esposo no la -Ay ay ay- dijo mi marido, -Yo te reconocería si midieras un pie más de altura y estuvieras calva. En el momento en que respiraras para decir palabra, yo sabría que eras tú.- Y yo reconocería también a Ben. Es por eso que me intriga tanto que los discípulos, quienes habían estado con Jesús desde el principio de su ministerio público en el Mar de Galilea, no lo reconozcan cuando se les aparece en ese mismo mar después de su resurrección. Todos, menos uno. El Discípulo Amado se da cuenta inmediatamente de que se trata de Jesús. ¿Quién es este misterioso "discípulo a quien Jesús amó"? Este discípulo anónimo se reclina al lado de Jesús durante la Última Cena, está junto a María al pie de la cruz, corre hacia la tumba con Pedro en la mañana de Pascua, y, ahora, es el primero en saber que aquel desconocido quien les llama desde la orilla es Jesús mismo. Un estudiante mío de hace muchos años retó mi entendimiento del Discípulo Amado para siempre. Me dijo, -Kathy, siempre que leo acerca del discípulo a quien Jesús Amó, yo solamente pongo mi nombre ahí. Digo, y entonces José, el discípulo a quien Jesús amó, puso su cabeza en el pecho de Jesús. O, en la cruz, -Mujer, aquí está José. José, aquí está tu madre.- Ahí tienes la manera de orar los evangelios. Trátalo. Pon tu nombre ahí. Imagínate que eres tú quien corre a la tumba, y tú quien ve a los ángeles. Y si, eres tu a quien se le da el cargo de -ve y diles a los otros. ¿Te da temor hablar de la resurrección de Jesús en nuestra cultura que es cada vez más secular?
