Sacred Conversation

Second Sunday in Lent

Ah, Lent. The blessed season of do-overs. We need it so badly, and yet we dread its disciplines until it's upon us. Then we sigh in relief that we have still another go at second chances. Sacraments are like that too. Each of them is God's way of jump-starting us out of the wounds and missed marks that are making us miserable. That's what's going on in today's Genesis reading, when God calls Abram out of the blue and promises blessing upon blessing. Huh? Abram (whose name change to Abraham is a big clue that he gets a do-over) has never even heard of this God, and now is being called out of his homeland and told to take his wife Sarai (who also gets a do-over) into a land they didn't even know existed. This aging couple needed a second chance at life. They were childless, which meant that their name could not go forward into the future. But, miracle of miracles, this God was promising not only descendants, but a "great nation" that would not only be blessed but, even better, would BE a blessing for all ages. Which would you rather know about your life, that you were blessed, or that you WERE a blessing? Think of the people—your children, your parents, your friends—who have brought blessing into your life. This would be the perfect week to tell them so. Even more perfect would be to tell your Jewish friends the ways in which they bless you. All these thousands of years later, observant Jews still pray every day that their name should be a blessing. They'll be so happy to know that God's promise continues.

In what ways are you a blessing to the world?

Conversaciones Sagradas

Segundo Domingo de Tiempo Ordinario

Ah, la Cuaresma. Esa bendita temporada de comienzos de nuevo. La necesitamos tanto, pero al mismo tiempo le tememos a sus disciplinas hasta que llega. Y entonces suspiramos de alivio al darnos cuenta de que se nos abre la puerta a otras segundas oportunidades. Los sacramentos también son así. Cada uno de ellos es una manera en que Dios nos arranca de las heridas y las fallas que nos están haciendo miserables. Es eso lo que sucede en la lectura de hoy del libro de Génesis, cuando Dios, de la nada, llama a Abram y le promete bendición sobre bendición. ¿Qué? Abram (ya con el cambio de nombre a Abraham caemos en cuenta de que necesitaba una segunda oportunidad) nunca había oído de este Dios, y ahora Él lo está sacando de su tierra y diciéndole que se lleve a su esposa Sara (quien también obtiene una segunda oportunidad) a una tierra que ellos ni siquiera sabían que existía. Esta pareja de ancianos necesitaba una segunda oportunidad en su vida. Ellos no tenían hijos, lo cual significaba que su nombre no iba a trascender al futuro. Pero, milagro de milagros, este Dios les estaba prometiendo no solamente descendientes, sino una "gran nación" que no solo sería bendecida, sino que, aun mejor, SERÍA una bendición por todos los siglos. ¿Cuál de las dos te gustaría saber acerca de tu vida, que eres bendecido, o que tú ERES una bendición? Piensa en la gente- tus hijos, tus padres, tus amigos- quienes han traído bendiciones a tu vida. Esta es una excelente semana para dejárselos saber. Y aún más fantástico sería decirle a tus amigos judíos las maneras en las que ellos te han bendecido. Después de todos estos miles de años, los judíos observantes todavía oran todos los días para que su nombre siga siendo una bendición. Se sentirán muy felices de saber que la promesa de Dios continua.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON MINI LENTEN RETREAT

Kathy McGovern, author of our parish scripture column The Story and You, will lead us in three Sunday afternoons of reflections on our eyesight, past and present. What things do we see much more clearly now than we did in the past? What things are we just beginning to see? (What things do we refuse to see?) Join us on Sunday, March 12, 19 and 26 at 1:00 pm in the church for this relaxing and thought provoking workshop.

CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES – OPERATION RICE BOWL

This year, our Faith Formation families will be participating in Operation Rice Bowl, an annual global Lenten project offered by Catholic Relief Services. We still have a few Rice Bowls left, so if you would like to take one home and invite your family to participate, please take one of the bowls from the table in the vestibule. We are asking folks to send their donation directly to Catholic Relief Services directly in the form of a check or money order. The address is on the booklet contained in the kit, or you can go to www.crsricebowl.org for more information.

BUTTER BRAIDS ARE BACK!

It's that time of year again! We will be selling Butter Braid pastries, just in time for your Easter dinner! We will begin our fundraiser on the weekend of March 24/25, and continue through the weekend of April 1/2. These make wonderful treats for that special brunch or dinner. They also make great gifts! Stock up! Proceeds this year will go toward general maintenance needs for the church.

In Lent, each Friday is a day of abstinence. A day of abstinence means to refrain from eating meat.

Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of abstinence as well as days of fasting.

A day of fasting consists of one full meal and two smaller meals that together do not equal another full meal.

Each Catholic who has received their First Communion is expected to receive Communion at least once a year, but especially in the Easter season.

Consequently, this means that every Catholic who has received their First Communion should celebrate the sacrament of Reconciliation before Pentecost Sunday.

Abstinence is a requirement of each Catholic from age 14 onward.

Fasting is a requirement of each Catholic from age 18 to 59.

To help everyone survive Lent—the Altar and Rosary Society is offering Punch & Cookies following the 4pm Saturday Mass and Coffee and Doughnuts following the 9am and 11:30am Masses. Join them and say hello and share some cheer.

Thank you to everyone who has decided to send a gift to the future of Saint Rose of Lima Academy through the Catholic Foundation. Here is what they have to say: Consider a Sacrificial Gift This Lent: Lent provides an opportunity to strengthen our devotion to God through prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Please prayerfully consider this time to make a current or planned gift to the Saint Rose of Lima Parish and School Endowment Fund held at The Catholic Foundation, which will strengthen the ministry of our Catholic community and keep our faith alive for generations to come.
